

Logo:

the Murder of Peter Bonsby

Since this website is centered around the debunking of a murder case, I am using a color theme of deep reds (the ones here are going to be the main colors for the blocks of the website and different headings/titles).

This typewriter-esque font evokes the amateur detective vibe I'm going for on the site. The other font, Clarendon, is possibly for the titles/headers of pages, or any special text.

These style choices I've gone for are hopefully going to feed into the intimate nature of the site and hopefully look both bloggy and serious.
